New York—WASHINGTON—Paris.

Superb Showing of Black Dress Goods.

NEVER has there been so great a variety of beautiful rich fabrics. Never have we had such a broad collection to show. Every taste and need may be suited, from light to heavy weights, from plain to fancy weaves, from dull to glistening effects. And there's plenty of room and a clear northern light to choose in. A partial list of the newcomers:

Sheer Black Fabrics.

Silk-and-wool Poplin, $1.00 to $2.00 a yard.	All-silk Marquisette, $1.25 to $2.00 a yard.
Silk-and-wool Crepe de Paris, $1.25 a yard.	All-silk Grenadine, $1.00 to $1.50 a yard.
All-silk Crepe de Chine (double width), $1.50 and $2.00 a yard.	All-silk Satin Ultra Cloth, $3.00 to $3.75 a yard.
All-silk Chiffon Voile, $1.00 to $2.00 a yard.	All-wool Crepe de Chine, $1.00 a yard.

Lily of France Corsets.

ALL the world—at least the world of fashionable women—look to Paris for their styles. To say a style is Parisian is to invest it at once with authority, as well as to suggest that consummate charm and originality for which the Parisian is justly famed.

As in gowns and lingerie so in Corsets—the models accepted as authoritative in style are originated in the shops of a few Parisian Corset-makers. The Lily of France Corsets are reproductions of Parisian models, embodying all the characteristic features of the originals, with such changes as will thoroughly adapt them to the American figure, as the mode of dress for the season requires, and as will meet the approval of fashionable women.

$5.00 to $25.00 a pair.

What Is Love?

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Nobody knows.

And everybody thinks he does!

Scientists explain it in dry-as-dust tones

and in words so appallingly long as almost to convince us it is an emotional

"Mrs. Harris." Lovers, on the other hand, avow it to be the whole roses and rapture of life, while cynics are equally assured that it is the mere result of pro-pinquity and imagination. Then what is love?

Undoubtedly it varies with the nature and circumstances of those who experience it.

One can hardly class the idealized romantic passion of a poet, say, with the feeling that animates the gentleman who beats his sweetheart or wife should she displease him; yet the last type undoubtedly feels love of sorts, and is, maybe,

more constant in his passion than the poet.

As well try to count the ripples on a ruined lake, the feathers on a butterfly's wings, as define love.

Individual Hair Dressing.

From the Buffalo Times.

"The individual," says a hairdressing expert.

"I believe in making your own hair the rage. Don't try to make your hair look like the hair of Mrs. Brown or Mrs.

Smith, or Mrs. Greybill, or Mrs. Green.

Create your own style and stick to it. If you are clever you can make yourself

the rage. You will become a beauty before you know it.

"I believe all women can have pretty hair, but they must do these things:

"They must keep the hair free from dust.

"They must keep it brushed so that it is amiable hair.

"They must know something of their own facial peculiarities so that they can dress their hair to best advantage.

"They must have a certain amount of originality so as to be able to change the hair dressing from day to day.

"They must have their own individual shampoo."

The badge signette is in high favor and is very beautiful.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Mr. and Mrs. Gaynor Attend Church with President.

MISS TERRY AND FIANCE BACK

Spent Week-end at West Chester—Lady Hadfield Spends Several Days House-hunting—Capt. Parker Will Return from Samoa by Way of Europe—Miss Denny at Pittsburg.

The mayor of New York and Mrs. Gaynor, who have spent the week-end in Washington, as guests of the President and Mrs. Taft, at the White House, will return to their home this morning. They, with Mrs. Taft, accompanied the President to All Souls' Unitarian Church yesterday morning in the White House automobile and dined at the White House last evening. In the afternoon they received some friends who called and took a short spin in a White House auto. Mr. J. C. Hemphill was one of the party at the church.

Miss Eleanor Terry, daughter of Rear Admiral Terry, accompanied by her fiancé, Lieut. Camperio, retiring naval attaché of the Italian Embassy, will return to Washington today. They went to West Chester to spend the week-end with Mrs. Terry's cousin, Mrs. Henry Norris, who had a small party for them. As soon as word comes from Italy of the date of the sailing of Lieut. Camperio's brother-in-law and sister, Signor and Signora Mayor, the wedding date will be set. They will come for the wedding, but can be absent but a short time from their home.

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Beekman Winthrop returned to Washington in time for the dinner at the White House Saturday evening, after spending ten days in New York and Brooklyn.

Lady Hadfield, sister of Attorney General Wickersham, spent several days in Washington last week, househunting. She and Sir Robert Hadfield are spending the autumn at Hot Springs, Va., and it is their purpose to spend the winter in Washington.

Mr. William Bowie Clarke, a popular bachelor in smart society circles, was injured on Friday evening in an automobile accident, while riding home with a friend. He is confined to his bed, in his new home, 1231 De Sale street. The wounds are not considered serious, although very painful.

Capt. John F. Parker, a nephew-in-law of former President Harrison, and who was the first naval aide to a President, has been for several years military governor of Samoa. He will be relieved of that duty on November 1, and will return with Mrs. Parker to this country by way of Europe. Mrs. Parker is a sister of the widow of former President Harrison, both being daughters of the first Mrs. Harrison's sister, Mrs. Lord, who died early in the Harrison administration.

Mrs. Harrison and her only daughter Elizabeth will meet Capt. and Mrs. Parker in Europe and return home with them. Capt. and Mrs. Parker were interesting factors in society in Washington for some years before and during the Harrison administration. Previous to that Capt. Parker was stationed at the Naval Academy for four years.

Miss Esther Denny, who has been visiting Miss Alice Vandegrift, has gone to Pittsburg with Miss Singer, whose guest she will be for several weeks. Miss Singer, who is a niece of Mrs. Knox, wife of the Secretary of State, was the guest here for a week of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brown.

An interesting event of the week is set for Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Miss Nora Lyles Williams, daughter of Mrs. John Henry Williams, of Poolesville, Md., and Mr. Carter Claiborn, of Potomac, will be married. The ceremony will take place at Poolesville, and a large gathering will attend.

Miss Marion Leutze, daughter of Rear Admiral Leutze, U. S. N., is spending the autumn at Hot Springs, Va. Her father is now commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and was formerly commandant of the Washington Navy Yard, where Miss Leutze was presented to society. Miss Leutze was a member of a party that left the Homestead early Friday morning last and reached the Natural Bridge, fifty-five miles, before sunset. Four relays of horses were used. The party made the return trip by moonlight Saturday evening. The other members of the party were Mrs. Harry M. Alexander, Jerome N. Bonaparte, Allan McCulloch, and E. Victor Loew.

Miss Isabel May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry May, of Massachusetts avenue, is in Newport, where she is being entertained by Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt.

A number of New Yorkers will add to the social brilliancy of the season here. Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont, on their return from abroad, will occupy their new residence, 1407 G Street. Among the guests who will be present are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Roosevelt, let Gerry, Mrs. Robert E. Roosevelt, Mrs. Edson Bradley, Mrs. Henry Clegg, the Misses Cameron, Mrs. Herbert Parsons, the Tiffany Dymers, and Representative Hamilton Fish, and family are among those who will entertain. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Emmons will be an addition to the New York colony this winter, having taken a house in Q street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Spencer have returned from Tuxedo for the winter. Among the season's debutantes in New York will be Miss Alice Danvers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Danvers, and granddaughter of the late James G. Blaine.

Mrs. Hitt, widow of Representative R. Hitt, has with her in her new home in Dupont circle her daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. S. Reynolds Hitt, and her children, who will spend the greater part of the winter with her. Mrs. Hitt, who has recently gone to Europe, is the newly accredited United States Minister there, spent some time with his family before going South.

Mrs. Nicholas Anderson has returned and opened her home in Sixteenth street. Gen. Aleshire, who is on his way to Honolulu, spent last week in San Francisco, where he was much entertained. He was the guest of honor at the mid-week at a dinner given by Gen. and Mrs. Tasker L. Bliss.

Capt. Richard Mulligan, U. S. N., and Mrs. Mulligan, with Mrs. Ogston, Mrs. Mulligan's mother, will sail for Europe on the Adriatic on November 12, where the bride and her mother have been residing since Chaplain Cassard was transferred from the naval trading station at Newport to the battle ship New Hampshire, in July last. After the wedding breakfast the bride and bridegroom left for a wedding tour, after which they will be at home in New York, where the bridegroom is pay officer of the naval training station.

The marriage of Miss Emily Rosalind Fish, daughter of Representative Hamilton Fish, of New York, whose winter home is at 1771 I street, to Mr. John Wilson Cutler, of Brookline, Mass., son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Phillips, Dr. Phillips being Mrs. Peters' brother, Mrs. John Phillips, Mrs. Peters' mother, plans to spend the coming winter in Washington and occupy the house in Sixteenth street she had last season. Representative and Mrs. Peters will, it is understood, be with her.

Mr. Chermont, formerly first secretary of the Brazilian Legation, has gone to Mexico, where he will be chargé d'affaires for the winter. He will be joined there by his wife and their son early in November.

Mrs. Seaton Schroeder and the Misses Schroeder will sail for Europe on November 3 to follow from port to port the fleet of which Rear Admiral Schroeder is command. They recently returned from Jamestown, R. I., where they spent the summer, and reopened their home in N street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Garrison McClintock, who have spent the summer and fall at Ridgefield, Conn., have returned to Washington for the winter.

Mrs. Chamberlain, wife of Senator Chamberlain, of Portland, Me., and her attractive young daughters, have returned to their home, 1749 Q street, after a pleasant summer at Capon Springs. Senator Chamberlain has been in the West all summer, and will not join his family here until Congress convenes.

Mrs. Corbin, widow of Gen. Corbin, will spend the winter at the Connecticut, where she has taken an apartment. Mrs. Corbin spent last season with her sisters, the Misses Patton, at their residence in Massachusetts avenue.

Bishop Merryman Colbert Harris, an eminent worker in the Methodist Episcopal ministry, is in Japan, and Korea, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Emily Harris McIntosh, of 159 A street northeast, for a short time. He came to Washington last week to be a guest at the dinner of the President and Mrs. Taft on Saturday evening for the mayor of Tokyo and Mrs. Charles Bishop Harris has been twice decorated by the Emperor of Japan for his services among the people of Japan.

The wedding of Mr. Dallas Bache Walcott, jr., of this city, assistant paymaster, U. S. N., and Miss Mary Emily Cassard, daughter of Chaplain William Gilbert Cassard, U. S. N., retired, took place in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Frederick, Md., on Saturday. The ceremony was performed by the father of the bride, assisted by Rev. Benjamin R. Love, rector of St. Paul's. The matron of honor was Mrs. Newton Lord Nichols, wife of Ensign Nicholas V. S. N., and the bridesmaids were Miss Anita S. Dowell, of Prince Frederick, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Mildred Swindell, the daughter of Mrs. J. Briscoe Bunting, also of Prince Frederick. The best man was Past Assistant Paymaster F. P. Williams, U. S. N., and the ushers were Lieut. Commander S. I. N. Major, U. S. N.; Past Assistant Paymaster R. W. Schumann, U. S. N.; Civil Engineer F. H. Cooke, U. S. N., and Lieut. R. F. Ludlow, U. S. M. C. The wedding march was played by Miss Mary Gray, of Prince Frederick. The bride wore a gown of chiffon over ivory satin trimmed with duchess lace and pearls, and her veil was caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor, who herself was a bride in June last, wore a wedding gown of crepe meteor, trimmed with duchess lace, and a hat trimmed with white willow plumes. Her bouquet and those of the bridesmaids were of white chrysanthemums and roses. The bridesmaids were of blue chiffon, trimmed with pink chiton roses, and their hats were of lace, trimmed with chiton roses. The groom, his best man, and the ushers wore the full dress uniforms of their rank in the navy and all carried swords. The bride was given in marriage by Ensign Newton Lord Nichols, U. S. N., acting in place of her brother, Midshipman Paul Cassard, U. S. N., who was unable to get leave from the Naval Academy, where he is a third-class man. The attractive and picturesque parish church was beautifully trimmed with autumn leaves and ferns, and the ceremony was performed under a wedding bell of white chrysanthemums suspended over the altar rail. The church was crowded with persons from Calvert and Southern Maryland and northern Virginia, those present from outside the county. In addition to the wedding party, were Capt. and Mrs. Dallas Bache Walcott, parents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Berger, Mrs. Robert J. Walker, Miss Virginia Wallis, of Washington; Miss Florence M. Bowen, of Prince George county; Mrs. M. M. Fitzgerald, Mrs. John Swindell, Mrs. Roberta F. Carewell, Miss Corinne Marsh, of Baltimore, and Messrs. J. St. Paul White and Arthur W. Dowell, of Baltimore. The wedding breakfast, following the ceremony, was given at "The Edge," the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Briscoe Bunting, cousins of the bride. The decorations were of chrysanthemums and carnations. The wedding presents, which were numerous and beautiful, were displayed at the residence of the bride's aunt, Miss Annie S. Dowell, where the bride and her mother have been residing since Chaplain Cassard was transferred from the naval trading station at Newport to the battle ship New Hampshire, in July last. After the wedding breakfast the bride and bridegroom left for a wedding tour, after which they will be at home in New York, where the bridegroom is pay officer of the naval training station.

SHOW HORSES ARRIVE

Capital Filling Up with Blue Ribbon Winners.

STABLED AT NATIONAL PARK

Two-day Matinee Promises to Be Social Event of Fall Season, While Army Officers Will Take Keen Interest—Willow King, Mrs. Potts' Jumper, Brings Atlanta Laurels.

Washington is filling up with blooded horses in preparation for the horse show to-morrow and Wednesday, which promises to be the social event of the fall season in the Capital. The stables at American League Park, where the show will be held, are nearly full, and more horses are coming in constantly.

The horses of Mrs. Allan Potts and those of U. D. Benner yesterday morning arrived from Atlanta, where they have just been shown. Willow King, Mrs. Potts' great jumper, which she will ride in the hunt team as master of hounds of the Castle Hill Hunt, won six blues at Atlanta, and the other horses, Blackbird, Silver Heels, Prince Royal, and Pretty Maid, also carried off honors. Mr. Benner's King Edward and Sans-a-tout are here.

Henry Fairfax's string came over the road from Loudoun County, arriving about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They are stabled at the park. Miss Amy E. Du Pont's harness horses are also on the grounds. Miss Du Pont sent three—Lady Babbie, Alexandria, and Mattie Chimes. Lady Babbie is fresh from the New York State and Pennsylvania shows, where she covered herself with honors. She won seventeen blue ribbons, eight reds, four yellows, and one white during the summer.

Look Bryn Mawr Honors.

In addition, she won the championship in the heavy harness classes at Bryn Mawr and the Devon Inn cup at the Devon (Pa.) horse show last summer. Alexandria, who is shown with Lady Babbie in the double harness class, won seventeen blues, six reds, six yellows, and four whites during the same period.

Mattie Chimes is a young mare which has not been shown much, and Miss Du Pont's trainer and manager, Fred Butler, is sanguine of the mare's chances at the Washington show. She will be shown in the runabout class. Lady Babbie will also be shown in this class, and J. B. Andrews, of the Buckeyeview Stock Farm, will show News Girl, a three-year-old, of Washington, Grand Slam. Butler says that Miss Du Pont will have no difficulty in beating Mr. Hechinger's horses, and that Mr. Andrews' entries were all beaten in the Virginia circuit last summer.

D. H. Andrews, manager for J. B. Andrews and the stock farm at Buckeyeview, said yesterday afternoon at the show grounds that when he exhibited against Miss Du Pont's horses last summer his animals were in bad condition, being overweight and in poor shape, owing to lack of exercise.

President's Box in Center.

The President's box, No. 35, is exactly in the center of the row back of the home plate of the baseball diamond, while the one on his right will be occupied by the Attorney General and his party. P. V. De Graw and party will be in the next box.

Col. Garard, Maj. Foltz, and Maj. Berry, of Fort Myer, have made some of the latest reservations of boxes, and the horse show association is in receipt of an order from Fort Myer for fifty grand stand seats for the staff officers, which indicates that a liberal sprinkling of the service will attend the show.

LATEST FASHION.

LADIES SHIRTWAIST.

All Seams Allowed.

The Gibson waist again appears and is always welcome, for it seems to be a model that suits so many women. It may be plain or fancy to suit the individual taste, but the Gibson idea always remains. The model we show has the tuck on each shoulder and the closing on the left side. In the front the tuck is stitched only a few inches, but in the back the stitching is carried to the waist line, and the little fullness there is gathered to a stay. The neck is finished by a neckband. The sleeve is the regulation shirt model, finished with a cuff to be closed with links. For a utility waist this serves as an excellent model, and it is made of any of the wash materials, or the Scotch or French flannels, one could not have a better waist in the wardrobe for this time of the year. The pattern (5174) is cut in sizes 32 to 42 inches, bust measure. To make the waist in the medium size will require 2½ yards of material 27 inches wide, 2½ yards 36 inches wide or 2 yards 44 inches wide.

The above pattern can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the office of this paper.
